

Lines for Major Battle in Norway Being Drawn: Troops Pour Into Sector

Travelers Report Nazi Forces Lost Heavily Before Elverum

(By The Associated Press)

Stockholm—Allies and Germany draw lines for major battle in Norway; three allied divisions, landed on Norwegian coast, believed preparing for thrust at Trondheim, Germans take Hamar and Elverum.

Paris—Ryngaard says France looks for "Mediterranean entente" with Italy, Spain.

Bucharest—Rumania gives Germany increased trade concessions in return for promise of war materials.

Berlin—Nazis, observing Hitler's 51st birthday anniversary, hurl defiance at allies.

London—Five killed, several injured, in North London munitions factory explosion; foreign office ready to discuss new trade agreement with soviet, Russia.

Bern—Swiss army colonel and several accomplices arrested in alleged German spy plot.

By The Associated Press

Allied and German troops poured into Norway on a large scale drew their lines today for heavy battle while Germany united to celebrate Adolf Hitler's 51st birthday anniversary and the allies made cautious moves to widen their influence.

With Britain and soviet Russia making overtures toward trade talks to ease one sore spot, France made a gesture toward Germany's non-belligerent ally and hostile critic of the allies, Italy.

Premier Paul Reynaud told the French senate's foreign affairs committee that France was looking toward a "Mediterranean entente" with Italy and also with Spain, whose nationalist government received German and Italian aid in the civil war.

The premier also declared France's purpose in southeastern Europe is the "maintenance of peace and independence of all countries."

The flow of troops to Norway indicated a battle of major proportions was in the making.

Two German Warnings

There were two German warnings to the Norwegians to stop their resistance, one a "final" demand by General Von Falkenhorst, commander-in-chief of the army of occupation, backed by a threat of "dreadful" punishment if they refused.

Von Falkenhorst's demand came as he marked Hitler's birthday anniversary by committing the death sentences of Norwegians doomed since the invasion; at the same time, in Berlin, the Norwegians were told that Germany intended to end their "purposeless resistance as quickly as possible.

DNE, German news agency, reported that a British transport had been sunk yesterday by German air bombs which also scored hits on a British cruiser and two transports.

DNE's report followed a British announcement that not a single life was lost in landing troops in Norway.

Report Heavy Nazi Losses

In the fighting in Norway, travelers who crossed into Sweden today said the Germans suffered heavy losses when they were repulsed in a battle for Elverum, north of Oslo. Earlier reports said Elverum had fallen to the Germans.

Unofficial reports said that one French and two British divisions, totaling between 30,000 and 40,000 men, had been landed at three widely-separated coastal points and that the allies apparently were planning a thrust at the German-occupied port of Trondheim, key to central Norway.

A British report said British and French soldiers reached Norway without a single life being lost, which the Press Association, British news agency, hailed as proving "more than anything else the complete control the allied fleets have over sea routes."

On the trade front, Britain informed soviet Russia she was willing to discuss a trade agreement, negotiations for which were broken off originally when Germany and Russia reached a non-aggression pact before the European war started.

Nazis Extend Grip

The Germans meanwhile, engaged in extending their grip on southern Norway, were estimated to have increased their expeditionary force to between 60,000 and 80,000 men—largely through reinforcements transported into the country by planes.

From Berlin, observing Hitler's 51st birthday anniversary, came words of defiance and predictions of ultimate victory, bolstered by

HUNT PROMOTER OF MYSTERIOUS COLONY IN OGLE

Chicago Officers Seek Interview With Mr. Adolph W. Hass

After visiting the site of a scheduled "sign up" meeting in the Chicago Italian sector last night, and finding no one there, Lt. Thomas Kelly of the Cook county State's Attorney's office told The Associated Press in Chicago that he and a squad of detectives have started a search for Adolph William Hass. They want to question him about recent attempts to recruit "colonists" for a mysterious settlement in Ogle county, several stories concerning which have appeared in The Telegraph.

"We want to see if this is legitimate," Kelly said as he and his squad toured the neighborhood in search of Hass, reported to be the principal promoter of the proposed colony.

Kelly indicated he had several places in mind at which he believed Hass might be located and said he would be taken into custody and questioned if he can be found.

Two Notices on Door

The Associated Press reporter who visited the hall at 91 South Laflin street at which a "sign up" meeting had been scheduled Friday night found only two typewritten notices. Both were pasted on the door. One read:

"Due to word received from land owners interested in contemplated colony, protest meetings are being held in Oregon. Inasmuch as it is the wish of the sponsors to be friends with its neighbors, it has been decided not to accept any new applications until after a meeting has been arranged between the sponsors of the movement and our Oregon friends."

It was dated April 18 and signed the "committee in charge of organization."

The second, dated Leaf River, Ogle County, Illinois, stated rumors are being circulated that persons without money are being accepted as members of the proposed

Objections to Wiley Will Overruled Today

Judge J. E. O'Neill of Dodgeville, Wis., presiding in the District court of Lafayette county, Wisconsin, today overruled the objections of Margaret Albrecht and Anna Travis and admitted the last will and testament of Wesley H. Wiley, of Shullsburg, to probate.

Wesley Wiley, who was 81 years of age at the time of his death on January 26, 1940, left an estate estimated to be worth approximately a million dollars. His nieces filed objections to the probate of the will. The hearing was vigorously contested and Judge O'Neill rendered his decision this morning.

Attorney Henry C. Warner of this city appeared at the trial in the will contest as counsel for Miss Emma Houghton, of Amboy, who is chief beneficiary of the estate.

Well Provided For

Denver, Colo., Apr. 20—(AP)—Mrs. Madeleine F. H. Kersh will have to get along without alimony from her fifth husband, Virgil A. Kersh, a railroad clerk who makes $5.35 a day when he works.

District Judge Joseph J. Walsh denied Mrs. Kersh's alimony request after she had testified her father supported her, that she had the use of five servants, owned three fur coats and had 20 changes of apparel.

Park Board Plans Full Program for Beauty, Pleasure

Edward Vaile was re-elected president of the board of the Dixon Park District at its annual organization meeting held last evening. Louis Pitcher was re-elected vice president, James R. Bales was re-appointed treasurer, Howard Byers was re-appointed secretary, and Atty. Geo. C. Dixon was re-appointed attorney for the commission. Wm. Teschendorf was named park policeman again this year, to serve as custodian of the peace at Lowell Park.

The park commissioners discussed plans for beautifying Page Drive, which skirts the north shore of Rock river from the high school grounds to a point west of the Borden plant and then turns north to join the Lincoln highway. The commissioners intend to plant a large number of trees and shrubs and included in this planting will be a profusion of flowering crabs, thorn-apple, Japanese cherry and other trees which will blossom in the spring and provide a gorgeous spectacle and will also produce fruit and berries which will afford food and attractions for birds in the fall and winter.

This year's shrub and tree planting program also contemplates improving and landscaping the river back at both approaches to the Abraham Lincoln bridge, as well

NLRB Agent Says Ford Co. Employs Strong Arm Squad

Washington, April 20—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company, charged by a labor board examiner with using a "strong arm squad" to beat and terrorize union members, was confronted today with an unprecedented proposal that it notify individually its more than 100,000 workers that they are free to join any labor union of their own choosing.

The recommendation that the company be required to give such notification was made by Robert N. Denham, the examiner, in a report to the board holding that the company had "gathered together the most brutal, vicious and conscienceless thugs in its employ" to defeat union organization at the Ford plant in Dallas, Texas, in 1937.

Gabe P. Allen, an attorney for the Ford Company, commented at Dallas that the examiner's charge was "just a conclusion and wild inference" designed to carry out the labor board's policy of "persecuting" the company. Declaring the findings were not warranted by

GOP Senators to Oppose Any Boost in Old Age Taxes

State Senator George C. Dixon attended a conference of Republican senators in Springfield last evening, to discuss the party's stand on legislation to come before the special session of the general assembly, which has been called to meet April 30.

The GOP group voiced opposition to any new tax legislation in the special session to finance a proposed increase in maximum old age assistance grants from $50 to $40 monthly. No formal statement of party policy was drafted, however. Two recommendations voted by the caucus were:

That the Republican state central committee include G.O.P. senators on the committee named to draft a party platform for submission to the state convention, scheduled to convene April 26 but likely to be postponed until May.

That five downstate and three Cook county Republicans be chosen by the state convention as delegates-at-large to the G.O.P. national convention in Philadelphia. Senator Benson said such a division would be in proportion to the relative G.O.P. voting strength in downstate and Cook county.

Editor's Group Wants Press to Be Vigilant On Contempt of Court

Washington, April 20—(AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors wants the press to be vigilant against "a recently-exhibited tendency of some judges to extend the conception of contempt of court into an unwarranted assault upon the bill of rights."

appeared in the international water color show, an honor few of his professors have shared. Hung above this painting was the janitors' coat of arms—two mops crossed upon a black dustpan-shield, with a crest of feather dusters.

Three mop-swingers in the show had their paintings accepted this winter by exclusive mid-west exhibitions. The majority of the exhibitors regarded their own work to be in a field popularly associated with Picasso.

No judges were planned for the two-week show but early visitors agreed on one thing: the land that yields the mop may also dabble a neat palette.

Chicago, April 20—(AP)—Twenty-six janitors in the Chicago Art Institute tossed aside their mops this morning to attend the opening of their own public exhibition of painting.

It was the sixth annual show by scholarship students who divide their time between scrub buckets and drawing easels. Each artist was chosen from hundreds of applicants.

This year's janitors, ranging in age from 20 to 26, have come from as far as Winnipeg, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

The central piece in their show was a modernistic oil portrait by Robert Amft, young Chicago artist whose work already has ap-

Fast Express Wrecked Near Little Falls, N. Y. in Night

Little Falls, N. Y., April 20—

(AP)—The New York-Chicago Lake Shore limited, roaring westward along the Mohawk valley 15 minutes behind schedule, hurtled the rails shortly before midnight last night carrying at least 25 persons to death and leaving 100 injured.

With most of the 250 to 300 passengers asleep, nine cars of the 16-car New York Central fast express were turned in a flash into a mass of twisted steel as they were derailed on a wide curve and piled up for a half mile along the main east-west highway and the Albany-Buffalo large canal.

Railroad men, investigating the New York Central's first passenger fatality in 13 years, voiced belief the train taking the curve at high speed sprung a rail.

The locomotive plunged across the highway into a rock embankment, tossing Fireman J. Y. Smith, Schenectady, N. Y., to instant death and pinning Engineer Jesse Earl, Albany, N. Y., in a battered cab where he died three hours later from loss of blood and two fractures.

Coach Cut Wide Open

The high-powered locomotive carried with it the tender and baggage car. One coach, uncoupled, sped down the tracks and apparently was not damaged. Another coach was cut open like a can of sardines, its top ripped off and the inside a complete wreck. A pullman came to rest on its right side. From each several bodies were removed.

A dining car was tipped at a 75 degree angle, a mass of wreckage. Two more Pullmans tilted precariously near the edge of the large canal.

The dead, the injured, car cushions, clothing and personal effects were strewn along the right of way. Feet of some of the victims protruded from the wreckage. Crumpled metal, ties and rails gave a junkyard appearance to the ghastly scene.

Survivors struggled back and forth looking for friends, relatives and luggage. There was no hysteria, no shrieks, no screams. Many persons grabbed blankets from the Pullman berths and huddled in groups against the freezing temperature. Communication lines, torn down by the plunging locomotive, were entwined in the debris.

The scene of the wreck was in the foot of jutting hills, 60 miles west of Albany, and several hundred yards east of the highest lift-lock on the North American continent. Rugged, rocky cliffs line the roadbed.

25 Bodies Recovered

State Police Lieutenant John Roman said 25 bodies were recovered in addition to those of the engineer and fireman. Identification of the victims was made difficult because most of them were in sleeping attire. Their clothing and luggage, only clues to identity, were lost in the wreckage. In addition, many of the bodies were so badly mangled identification was virtually impossible.

Hospitals in the area were jammed with the injured and ambulances and physicians rushed to the scene from miles around. Cots were placed along the highway and the four-track line for those less seriously hurt.

Railroad men of the line, which received the Harriman award last year for passenger safety record, were inclined to discount a theory the locomotive exploded.

Hyman Blitz, 48, Toledo, O., said he was in bed "when all of a sudden we heard a tremendous crash and felt the car topple over."

"I pulled a friend of mine out of the wreck," he related. "His ear had been cut off. We heard lots of screaming, it happened so suddenly we didn't know what happened."

Bridget Lo Guadice, Utica, said several persons "kelt in the aisles of the coach and prayed."

"There was lots of moaning on the floor and so much confusion we didn't know what happened," she asserted.

T. H. Jones, West Englewood, N. J., said he had just fallen asleep when the wreck occurred. "The next thing I knew," he added, "the upper berth crashed down on me and pinned me close. I managed to extricate myself but there were many passengers who were lying about in the cars."

HOW TO BUY BUILD FINANCE MODERNIZE FURNISH IMPROVE YOUR HOME

Now's a Good Time to Build

Regardless of whether the cost of building materials is due to go up or down, the prospective homeowner, particularly the average fellow... is now enormously benefited. There's a shortage of decent homes. Land prices, according to experts, are still comparatively low, with a rise ahead if real-estate history repeats itself. So many improvements have been made in building methods, materials and equipments that the house built today gives considerably more value for the same amount of money than the house built even ten years ago. All in all it looks like a good time to seriously think of owning your home, no matter where you live or what conditions are locally.

Home on Chicago Road Has 12-24 Gable

The old English home of Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard of 815 Chicago Road, with its double-pitch gable, is an attractive addition to this rapidly developing section of Dixon. The dwelling, facing west on a terraced lawn, is an adaptation of the Old English homes seen so frequently in Hubbard Woods.

The exterior is painted white, and is finished with eight-inch siding. The shutters on the windows are stained green to match the green-stained shingles on the roof. The front door is reached by means of a small porch with ornamental stone finish.

Mr. Pritchard constructed the home himself during spare hours, requiring two days less than six months to complete the work. He believes there is no other gable in Dixon with a pitch of 12 run by 24 rise, which is almost twice the normal gable pitch. A total of 1,083 1-3 square yards of dirt was moved, (mostly by wheel barrow), during terracing of the lawn.

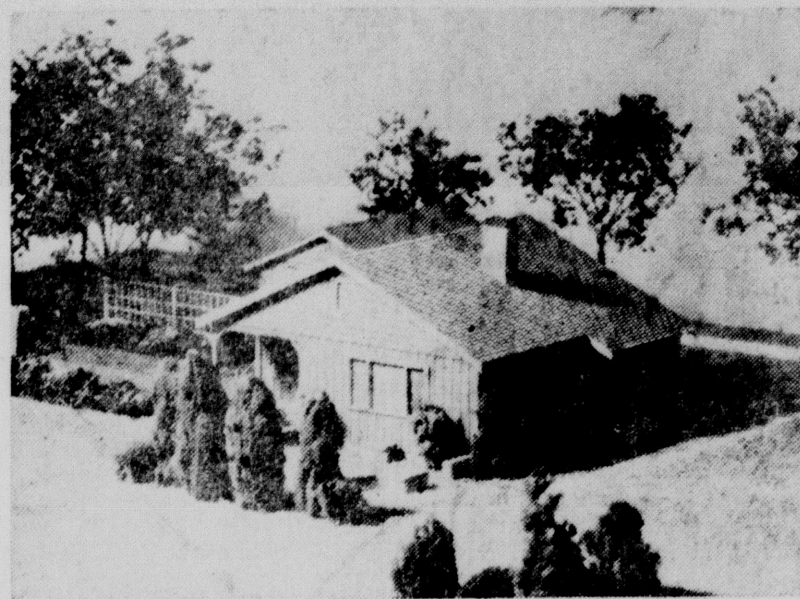

Two Japanese cherry trees are expected to be in full bloom on the lawn in about a month. Plantings of juniper and other ornamental shrubs will complete the landscaping.

The attic can be converted into a second-story apartment. The basement is equipped with a hot air furnace and heating coil, and extends under the entire floor plan.

The two-car garage, north of the dwelling, is equipped with overhead doors.

Lamps are essentially a necessity and should be placed in spots where they have a legitimate excuse for being. This excuse should either be to give light for reading or to play up some particularly interesting corner of the room.

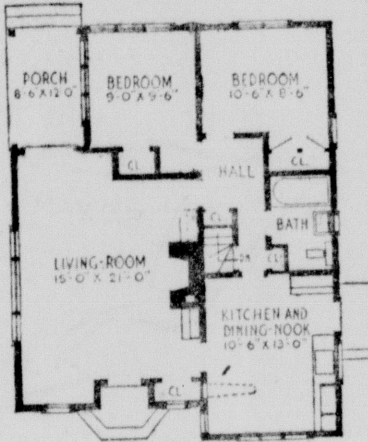

'Come Hither' House

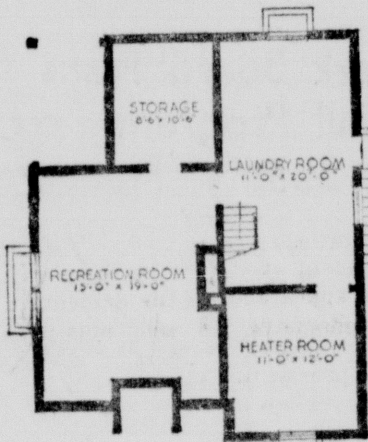

Besides being convenient according to modern homemaking standards, this little garden home has that quality which architects call "lure." The more you look at it the more attached you become. It has the simple, distinctive design characteristic of sound planning. Although designed for a 50 foot lot, and sophisticated enough for bat is handily adjoining. In the basement is a space for a garage, if, instead of the detached garage you wish to have it there and your local building laws permit. Also in the basement are the heater room and a recreation room. The laundry trays are handily and economically placed below the bathroom plumbing.

(Editor's Note) Do you like this home? Would you like to know what it will cost built in (your city)? Send six cents to the Meredith Publishing Company, Des Moines, Iowa, and ask for the "List of Material Chart" for home plan No. 602. Take this list to your architect, building material dealer or contractor and he will be able to figure exactly what it will cost you to build. If you wish, plans may be purchased for $5.00 the first set, and $2.50 each additional set. Better Homes and Gardens "Book of Bldg. Angular Tube With Built-In Shower

Striking is this bathroom, not expensive but so well arranged that it takes on an air of positive luxury. The tub is of the latest angular type, providing seats in each corner. Recessed in the wall a shower curtain completes the enclosure. Lighting is on the modern side with two lamps by the mirror and a large central light in the ceiling. Note the towel racks on the lavatory, the black linoleum floor with inlaid feature circle of white. The gaily decorated stool. Modernize your bathroom now. Terms are easiest in history.

Pieces of plain, wooden furniture, pictures and ornaments are well chosen with a definite purpose and blend with the rest of the room.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA GIVES FINE PERFORMANCE IN FIRST PUBLIC CONCERT

Smooth, co-ordinated tones that members of the Dixon high school orchestra have developed in the three years since their organization, were much in evidence last evening when the group presented their first instrumental concert for the public. The young musicians performed in the high school auditorium, and while the audience was not large, it was enthusiastic in its applause and response throughout the ninety-minute program, presented under the direction of Orville Westgor.

More than 40 students participated in the program, which consisted of orchestral selections, solos, duets, and ensembles. Both Mr. Westgor and his orchestra put everything they had into last night's concert, and their efforts were given whole-hearted approval.

Encouraged by the attentiveness of the audience, Mr. Westgor hopes to arrange two similar concerts next season. He is also announcing a concert to be given by the grade school orchestra on May 3.

Two eighth graders, Donna Mae Palmer, who plays the piano accordion, and Winston Atkins, vibraphonist, were heard last evening, and will also appear on the concert program on May 3.

An original piano composition by Marilee Burns, who also played the accompaniment for the other performers, was liked particularly well. Other instruments heard were violins, cornets, trombones, clarinets, flute, cello, drums, string bass, and tuba.

Orchestra members appearing were Donald Kieffer, Kenneth Hecker, Bill Haefliger, Ralph Goodman, Dorothy Fruin, Jane Sharp, Alice Hintz, Marilee Burns, Billy Toberman, Mary Marth, Dorothy Kirschner, Amy Viola Schell, Robert Tennant, Joan Smith, Rosanne Deutsch, Robert Meeks, Marshall Bunnell, Dick Keller, Roger Chapman, Mary Louise Smith, Dwight Fulmer, Jean Smith, Bill Mason, Mavis Westgor, Bob Wentling, Walter Knack, Billy Thompson, Bob Jacobson, Geraldine Quinn, Harvey Ware, Carmen Schofield, Lloyd Warren, Walter Nadine Stepp, Harriett Fuls, Dorothy Nelson, Sue Bryant, Evelyn Kested, Dick Cupp, William Burfeindt, Harold Salzman, and Lois Blimling.

Soloists included Walter Knack, cornet; Lloyd Walter, flute; Bill Haefliger, cello; Donald Kieffer, violin; Marilee Burns, piano; Geraldine Quinn, trombone; Donna Mae Palmer, accordion; Winston Atkins, vibraphonist, were heard last evening, and will also appear on the concert program on May 3.

MRS. HAYES WRITES PLAY FOR WOMAN'S CLUB DINNER PARTY

An original play, "Little Acorns", written by Mrs. E. Melville Hayes, will be presented at the Golden Jubilee dinner of the Dixon Woman's club Wednesday evening at the Methodist church. The story reviews the progress of the General Federation since its founding, half a century ago.

The evening's program is also to include a history of the local club, now in its forty-third year, by Mrs. Adolph Elchler. Reservations for the dinner may be telephoned to either Mrs. E. H. Prince or Mrs. J. R. McDaniel.

BALDWIN AUXILIARY
United Spanish American War veterans of Dixon will be guests of Baldwin Auxiliary members Tuesday evening at a 6:30 o'clock scramble supper and program in G. A. R. hall, in celebration of Muster Day. Elwin Wadsworth is to be the guest speaker.

ELKS' AUXILIARY
Members of the Elks Ladies' Auxiliary met at the clubhouse for their bi-weekly card games yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Fremont Kaufman and Mrs. Henry Hey received score favors.

Everyday Dress

Spring Bynington, screen mother of the Jones Family, wears an everyday dress of small figured blue and white silk print, designed by Odette Myrtle. Its shaped belt, skirt bands and turn-down collar of navy blue crepe are slimming points. Platform shoes and a navy wind-it-yourself turban add height.

WEEK-END VISIT
Miss Jewel Auman, faculty member in the Mt. Union, Iowa high school, will arrive in Dixon this evening for a week-end visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Auman. A vocalists, glee club and sextet from Miss Auman's music classes are eligible for the Iowa state music contest, having been awarded first-bracket ratings in district competition.

Thaddeus Kozuch, Chicago Pianist, Will Appear Here

Thaddeus Kozuch, young Chicago pianist who was born of Polish parents, is among the artists which members of the Dixon Concert League will bring to their concert platform next season.

By the time Kozuch had reached his "teens", his amazing technique had impressed itself upon Chicago audiences. Even Vladimir Horowitz, who visited a piano class conducted by Glenn Dillard Gunn, with whom young Kozuch was studying, remarked that the lad had "fabulous fingers".

In 1932, he entered the Chicago Musical college and won, each year, a full scholarship until he received his degree in 1936. When Dr. Gunn left the college in 1934, Kozuch became a pupil of Rudolph Ganz, internationally famed pianist, and under his great teaching, the dash and phenomenal talent of this Polish boy matured into first-rate musicianship.

In the spring of 1939, Thaddeus Kozuch won the contest sponsored by the Adult Education council to select the most outstanding young pianist, amateur and professional, in the Chicago area. For this achievement, he received a solo recital, Feb. 6, 1940, in Orchestra Hall, on the Musical Arts Piano series, which features some of the world's most celebrated pianists.

Kozuch's appearance on this series to a "sold-out" house, with an overflow audience seated on the stage, was a tremendous success. Of this performance, Eugene Stinson, music critic of the Chicago Daily News, said: "Chicago has seldom heard youthful piano playing so direct and well-considered, so free of discrepancy or of self-contradiction, satisfying in its focus and of such genuine and substantial quality."

Other Artists
Appearing on the same program with Kozuch will be Virginia Haskins, coloratura soprano. Other artists who will be heard next season are Tito Schipa, tenor, and the Eva Jessye choir, world's premier negro vocal ensemble.

On Tuesday evening, the League will close another illustrious year, with appearance of the Saidenberg Symphonietta, 18 solo musicians from Chicago. Holders of tickets for the 1939-40 season who are renewing their memberships for next year are receiving guest cards for the Saidenberg concert. Admission to the Tuesday evening program without extra cost is the bonus reward offered to new members, who pay for next season's membership now.

The Saidenberg program will be presented in the Dixon high school auditorium. Memberships for next season may be secured there, beginning one hour before concert time, (scheduled for 8:15 P. M.) or at the League headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce building.

The Symphonietta, now in its fourth year, is directed by Daniel Saidenberg, who resigned from the first cellist's chair of the Chicago Symphony orchestra four years ago in order to form his little string orchestra. He gathered together a hand-picked group of expert young string players, most of them members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Despite the heavy demands their regular duties made upon their time, Mr. Saidenberg's young enthusiasts have devoted countless spare hours to the preparation of the symphonietta programs in the last three seasons, and the organization has become one of the genuinely indispensable musical groups of Chicago.

Ordinarily the best placement for console pianos is flat against the wall or at right angles to the wall. Never set it across a corner unless you find this results in better tonal qualities. A grand piano is usually placed with its long side against the wall, and since this is the instrument generally used by accomplished musicians, it is well to place the piano so that at least part of the keyboard is visible to others in the room.

ATTEND PLAY
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Trombold and daughter, Miss Mary Trombold, and Miss Albert Stocker are spending the week-end in Chicago. They have tickets for the play, "The Philadelphia Story," starring Katherine Hepburn.

Ashton Clubwomen Have Art Exhibit

Scenes from the White Pines State park and Lowell park and vicinity, as well as marines along the Atlantic coast in Massachusetts, were included in the exhibit of oil paintings by the Rev. James O'May of Chicago, which members of the Ashton Woman's club viewed yesterday at Mills-Petrie Memorial building.

The artist, whose son, C. H. O'May is an Ashton high school faculty member, formerly served pastorates at Sycamore, Freeport, Rockford and Aurora, and is a past president of the Business Men's Art club in Chicago. Ashton high school students were invited to visit the show during the afternoon, and were interested in an informal lecture given by the artist.

The Ashton clubwomen are planning their annual May breakfast for 12:30 o'clock on Saturday morning, May 4, at the Hotel Nachusa in Dixon. Arrangements are also being made for a silver tea next month.

Mrs. Mildred Clover is president of the club, and is to serve as delegate to the district and state federations.

HEAR MARIAN ANDERSON SING

At least five Dixonites were in the huge audience which paid enthusiastic and sincere tribute to Marian Anderson, noted negro soprano, Thursday evening in Rockford. They were Mrs. Collins Dysart, Miss Ruth Dysart, Mrs. Margaret Scriven, Miss Lolla Quick, and William Wedlake.

They are among those who have secured tickets for the 1940-41 series of concerts to be given by the Rockford Mendelssohn club Community Concert association—for which no more tickets are available. The William Haefliger, Mrs. Howard Edwards and Miss Clara Armington have also obtained memberships in the association for next year.

Subscribers for next season's concert series will hear Lily Pons, coloratura soprano; John Carter, young American tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company; Robert Casadesu, French pianist; Gaspar Cassado, Spanish cellist; and Anatol Kaminsky, violinist.

UNITY P.-T. A.
The following program was presented at last evening's meeting of the Unity School Parent-Teacher association:
Songs, "I Love Little Pussy", "Hey Diddle Diddle", and "The Clapping Land", lower grades; songs, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton" and "Blue Bells of Scotland", upper grades; vocal solo, "A Serenade to the Stars," Elaine Gilbert; one-act comedy, "Reuben Comes to Town," Woosung P.-T. A.; music, Frances' Knight Hawks of Dixon, Mrs. Frances Swarts, Wade Hawks, Eldred Dresden, and Edmund Cox.

Miss Ruth Bollman is teacher of the school. Miss Edith Scholl was in charge of the program, which was followed by refreshments. Mrs. Carrie Wales is music supervisor.

HOYLES ARE WED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoyle of 618 Peoria avenue were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday. Their anniversary cake was baked by Mrs. Lester Hill, a daughter of the couple. Yellow roses were another gift in memory of the occasion.

WILL CELEBRATE TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Fischer of 215 Chamberlin street will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary on Sunday. The couple, who was married at Mt. Varroll on April 21, 1915, have one daughter, Eleanor Jane, and a son, William Eldena.

As of Jan. 15, 1940, there was a total of 171 seaplane bases and anchorages, including army and navy bases in the United States.

Becomes Bride of Mt. Morris Man

Before her marriage last Saturday in Akron, Ohio, Mrs. Charles Wilson Finch, pictured above, was Miss Betty Gage. Mr. Finch and his bride have been motoring through the south on their wedding trip, and after May 1, will be at home at 324 East Center street in Mt. Morris. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis George Finch of Mt. Morris.

KREIBEL - SOUBA RITES ARE READ

Miss Maxine Souba and Arnold B. Kreibel were married Friday morning at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Polo. The Rev. Theodore Loepper read the vows.

Mrs. George Beard and Beecher Bomberger of Polo attended the couple. The bride wore powder blue crepe with a shoulder corsage of sweetpeas, with navy accessories. Mrs. Beard was dressed in dusty rose.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Kreibel will be at home on the farm of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Kreibel, near Polo.

The bride, who is a daughter of Louis Souba of Geneva, Neb., was graduated from the Geneva high school. For the past two years, she has made her home with her brother, Lester Souba, in Polo. Mr. Kreibel was graduated from Polo Community high school in 1937.

BYRON STUDENTS WILL NAME QUEEN

Students of Byron high school will select a May queen to be crowned at their annual May dance, preceding Commencement. The queen will be chosen by vote of the students.

There's nothing dull or uninteresting about the new straw hats. Some are soft and pliable as a glove, others crisp as an orchid blouse. The weaves are lovely—ranging from delicate replicas of Valenciennes lace and Irish crochets to rick-racks and natural rough rustics. The dyes have been carefully mixed to harmonize with popular fabrics and accessories. There's a soft, grayed blue, as well as a lively navy, a rich deep brown, and a deep rose with a dusty cast that are entirely new. Many of the brims narrow toward the back, adding a certain shapeliness to the head; large, up-standing bows, postilion crowns, sky-reaching feathers all lend height.

Tiny compressed discs which expand into subtly-perfumed wash cloths when dipped in water are among new aids to help the traveler keep fresh and well-groomed. Tuck two or three in your hand-luggage for use on the train and the rest of the package in your overnight case. They are nice, too, for the weekend hostess to keep on hand for guests who do not bring their own.

nore the subpoena on the grounds that a Circuit court lacks jurisdiction in an action involving the governor's authority.

Experts' Opinions
Administration legal experts opined that the governor could not legally be made a party to the suit. They also said that the mandamus action to compel Stelle to become acting governor would be dismissed automatically if his answer to the suit points out that he already has proclaimed himself acting governor.

The lieutenant governor proclaimed himself acting governor the day before the primary election, in which he was defeated for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Horner departmental heads have not recognized Stelle as the acting chief executive.

The amended complaint asserts that Horner, by reason of illness, "has abandoned, or by implication resigned, his office" and that it is incumbent upon the lieutenant governor to supersede him.

Furthermore, the complaint states that the governor and lieutenant governor "have permitted unauthorized persons" to perform the duties of the governor and therefore "have subjected themselves to criminal penalty and prosecution".

REPUBLICANS NEUTRAL
Springfield, Ill., April 20—Republican state senators were steering a neutral course today—for the time being at least—in the dispute between Governor Horner and Lieut. Governor John Stelle over who is entitled to exercise the authority of governor of Illinois.

Two hours of debate in a closed conference of the G. O. P. senators failed late yesterday to produce any agreement on the stand the minority bloc will take on the governorship clash when the legislature meets April 30 in special session.

Likewise the group deferred, until another session-eve caucus on April 29, a united stand on a proposed legislative investigation into Horner's physical fitness.

Senator Arnold P. Benson of Batavia, G. O. P. floor leader, said the conference decided it was "too early" to formulate any policy on the governorship question, since developments might alter the controversy before the special session convenes.

Conferees said there was a sharp divergence of opinion whether the general assembly has authority under the constitution to create a committee to investigate the governor's health.

Senator T. MacDowning of Macomb said a majority of the 14 downstate G. O. P. senators in the caucus regarded the dispute as a Democratic factional feud which the Republicans should "boycott".

If a test vote is taken at the outset of the special session, as to whether Horner's special session call or that issued by Stelle is to be recognized, Downing predicted most of the Republican senators would refuse to vote.

"This refusal would force the Democrats to vote alone and settle their own squabble among themselves", Downing said.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Rock River Register—Good Newspaper

The publisher calls it "Illinois' Smallest Newspaper" and in fact it is not very large. But size does not count so much as quality, and it is really good, the Rock River Register—a fine little newspaper, owned, published and edited by Gordon Hewitt, an enterprising, ambitious and capable young man who lives at Sinnissippi Farm, Governor Lowden's home, near Oregon.

Editor in Chief Hewitt's staff includes Spencer Gentry, sports editor and Betty Himes, society editor. They publish news items of the vicinity and carry advertising from Oregon business houses. Included in the columns of the Register we notice interesting feature articles of local history, Oregon High School notes, etc. A recent issue states that Shawnee Mooneyham of Daysville, who works in the timber on Sinnissippi's far flung acres, reports seeing many deer in the woods this spring. Also, there is now currently appearing a series of articles giving valuable historical data on the territory included in Sinnissippi Farm, written by U. G. Willis. An excerpt:

"The name of 'Squaw Rock' is now applied to the high rock of St. Peter's sandstone that rises perpendicularly from the river to the height of thirty feet or more. It is one of the well-known landmarks along the river and is designated as 'Squaw Rock' on many maps of Ogle County.

"Whether it received its name from 'Squaw Farm' or from the rock nearby, which Mr. Hemeway called 'Squaw Rock,' no one can say with certainty. It may have been named thus from an old tradition, which many people relate, but which no one can vouch for.

"The story runs that once an Indian maiden who had been disappointed in her love for a young brave, committed suicide by leaping from the rock to the river below. Ever afterward it was called 'Squaw Rock.'"

● SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

YESTERDAY: Although inwardly raging at Eddie, Val is sweet, explains his failure to help her change the tire. Late in the afternoon a airplane lands. It brings two sports writers, determined to get even with Val Douglas.

CHAPTER XXI

THEY dropped into an obscure little tavern on a side street. "Okay," said Duffy. "Unload. I'm dyin' of curiosity."

The Express boxing writer grinned. "Duffy, to begin with, you've got to stow us away on your ship tonight, or some time before you sail in the morning."

"Go ahead, Kenny. Nothing surprises me any more. In fact, I know what happens from then on. You start a mutiny, seize the ship and run off to hunt purple polar bears."

Bradley reached out and took Duffy's glass away from him. "You gotta quit drinking that stuff, Duffy," he said gravely. "Now listen to me."

"Our papers chipped in to charter a plane and get us up here in time to sail back with that outfit. That Douglas dame has scooped everyone. She's given her syndicate some newsbeats that'll be used to shame us men for years to come."

"You got a right to talk about beatings," Duffy mumbled. "You ain't heard nothing."

"I can guess, from that story she did write you were seaskick."

"It's a lie!" Duffy roared, but Bradley ignored him.

"Anyway," he continued. "Monroe and I have to get on board that ship and make the trip back with you. We've just got to get in on a couple of those stories. Holy mackerel, Duffy, do you realize this is the first time any fighter ever trained for such an important scrap aboard a ship?"

"You're tellin' me," Kelso moaned.

Duffy closed his eyes and a beatific smile stole over his face. "Boys," he said, "this is wonderful. This gives me new life. This is . . . aaahh, but that dame will throw a fit!"

Bradley grinned. "Attaboy, Duffy. I knew you wouldn't let us down."

Duffy frowned. "It ain't gonna be easy. It might take a little dough."

"Whatever you need, Duffy, we've got."

DUFFY KELSO was bubbling over so that he could hardly talk when he returned to the ship and collared Pop Grimes. He explained everything.

"But we can't even tell Eddie," he warned. "I ain't so sure he'd be on our side."

And so it was that when the Northern Belle nosed back out into Chatham Sound and into the straits the next morning Ken Bradley and Bob Monroe were among those present. It had taken ticklish work and two $50 bills to convince a couple of good-natured seamen that it was a gag.

Val was in the chartroom with Captain Hansen when Barney MacGregor entered.

Barney sat down heavily. "We've got two stowaways," he announced flatly.

"We got what?" Hansen belted.

"Stowaways," Barney repeated wearily as though it might have been something he had been expecting all along. "And what do you think they are—reporters?"

Val asked quickly. "Names are Bradley and Monroe. Know 'em?"

"Where are they?" she asked. "I know 'em all right."

"Down talking to your young box-fighter. Well, what do we do with 'em?"

Who Hit Norway First?

British statesmen, in their comment on the Norway situation, say that Germany must have started an invasion of Norway at least three hours before the British laid those mines which the Germans used as a pretext for action.

In a verbal counter-thrust the Germans allege that on occupying one Norwegian harbor they found and seized several ships laden with British munitions, which must have been started toward Norway before the German ships were on their way.

In rebuttal, British claims these ships had been laden with munitions to help the Finns. Presumably, therefore, they were in the Norse harbor waiting an opportunity to get back to Britain.

This thing could go on and on, indefinitely. Most Americans will have to await the sifting of evidence after the war to learn the truth.

Hardly anyone doubts that the nazis had a well-prepared plan to invade Norway. Such smooth action is not developed in a few hours. We suggest that when the Germans told the allies to keep out of the Finn-Russian fight they already had prepared a plan of action to hamper the allies, and this plan most probably included occupation of Norway. We even suspect that the Germans had a plan for occupying Norway before they invaded Poland.

We go even further than that. The Germans probably have plans for tactics to use in invasions of Sweden, Russia, Rumania, Italy and a long string of other countries. Likewise, the allies probably have plans for occupying Denmark, Belgium, Holland, the Scandinavian peninsula, Russia and other countries. We suspect that if one digs deeply enough one could find British plans for invasion of Canada and Australia. Military tacticians sit around thinking up plans, whether they mean to use them or not. They do it to sharpen their wits.

Existence of such plans is not in itself vicious. The intention of a government to use the plans, however, is another thing. That the nazis meant to use their Norway plan can not be doubted.

As to the future of Norway, it is clouded. If the nazis manage to consolidate their hold on that country and establish air and submarine bases on Norway's west coast, we shall take with a grain of salt the nazi promise to withdraw after the war is over. To give up such a splendid advantage is hardly within European human nature.

As to who hit the Norsemen first, the answer is immaterial. The troublesome fact is that they were hit.

Obey That Impulse!

Along about this time of year comes the Great American Urge.

The first sunny days, the first birds singing around the corner of the house, and your average man's hands itch for the heft of a spade or the feel of a paint brush. And his wife's thoughts lightly turn to slipcovers and new paper for the dining room.

It's a laudable urge, and what with business a little better during the past year, and prices holding steady, there ought to be an awful lot of slicking up going on pretty soon.

The best of it is that, especially on the outside work on the house and lawn, you not only get the satisfaction and joy out of it yourself, but the sum-total of it all raises the tone and looks of the whole town, and everybody shares in the general brightening-up.

Let's make the old town shine this spring as never before!

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 19.—This is going to be a trying year on presidential candidates. The electorate is getting too smart.

When Candidate Vandenberg was out west for a speech he was approached by a farm group bent on smoking out his agricultural views. The smoke-man asked in effect:

"What do you propose to do about our flaxseed surplus problem?"

The Michigander smiled: "What do you mean flaxseed surplus problem? We grow only a very small fraction of what we need."

The group laughed and replied: "We know that but we just wanted to find out if you did."

The wise farm leaders are understood to have tried the same strategic question on another candidate with different results. The second victim is supposed to have replied that he considered the problem serious, but "frankly" did not know very much about it and some of his advisers were working on it.

Agreement—Japan's warm and friendly—but slightly Oriental—approval of Mr. Hull's warning against any future Japanese move to seize the Netherlands Indies is based on sound military judgment.

How far American public opinion would want to go to stop the Nipponese is an unanswerable question, but otherwise there is no doubt about naval capacity to enforce the Hull policy.

Japanese military occupation of the equatorial empire could not be maintained as long as the British naval base at Singapore interferes geographically or the American fleet could operate from there or Hawaii across the long Japanese line of communications. Japan would need to land somewhere near 200,000 troops for the enterprise and would have to sustain them from the homeland. American strategy would be to permit the occupation and then seek out and defeat the Japanese fleet. No naval authority here thinks this would be hard to do, and it would leave the occupation force stranded.

But the situation is not likely to get to this. The British do not wish trouble with Japan, neither do we. An official boycott on Japan's vital silk trade or a ban on our oil shipments to her would be powerful persuaders short of naval action.

Flicker—Mr. Roosevelt's newly shed light on the budget was true out it did not go far enough to penetrate the predicament. Revenue will undoubtedly be a couple of hundred million dollars more than he anticipated in January. Party payments now being appropriated will not go out of the treasury for more than a year yet. But the president entirely overlooked the collapsing still upon which his budget mainly rests—recovery of $750,000,000 in cash from government agencies, a feat which his fiscal authorities concede is improbable if not impossible.

Slightly dazed fiscal leaders in congress almost simultaneously took steps to meet the perplexing situation immediately after the coming November elections. Senators Harrison and George and Representative Doughton are arranging to create a taxation and budget committee to meet before the next congress convenes.

Both the administrative and executive branches of government are thoroughly agreed on postponing any attempt to add up income and outgo realistically until after the campaign is over.

Elasticity—Administration's elastic policy opening up new planes to the allies is being stretched more rapidly than expected. When war department officials were before congressional committees they said the new flying fortresses would not be involved as the British were not interested. These planes have longer range than the allies needed.

Th allies have apparently now changed their minds as these flying fortresses have been released to them and they plan to order 500. They intend to knock out the extra gasoline tanks and use the weight savings for extra bombs.

There is still a chance, however, the deal may not go through. The allies think they will get the planes for around $100,000 each, whereas the cost may turn out to be nearer $250,000 when they get down to specific terms.

Loading—A great bulk of campaign ammunition for an attack on business bigness is being quietly manufactured downtown in the administration. It will be shoved

Urges Blanket Order

Denham cited testimony taken in a five-weeks' hearing on a complaint against the Ford Company at Dallas, which he said showed that plant officials organized a "strong arm squad" which beat up union sympathizers.

He recommended that any remedy prescribed under the Wagner act be applied to all Ford plants in the United States.

Ordinarily the labor board requires remedial action by employers only as to local situations held to be in violation of the Wagner act.

But in the Dallas Ford Case, Denham contended that the circumstances disclosed by the hearing "reach far beyond local conditions in Dallas."

"Planned in Dearborn"

"The labor policies of the Ford Motor Company are admittedly planned," he said, "not in the local branches but in the main office in Dearborn (Mich.) because of this, it is essential that if the policies and purposes of the (Wagner) act are to be effectuated, any order of the board to be issued in this case be directed, not to the local conditions that exist throughout the system of manufacturing plants and assembly branches that is the Ford Motor Company."

The notice which Denham would have Ford send each employe, as well as post on bulletin boards, would express an intention not to discourage union membership by discharges or the use of espionage, or "strong arm" squads.

The notice, he said, should be delivered with the "same thoroughness" that pamphlets entitled "Ford Gives Viewpoint of Labor" were distributed to workers in 1937.

AP Reports Gossip Among Politicians in Washington

BY ANDRUE BERDING

Washington, Apr. 20.—(AP)—A high official who is a close friend of Secretary Hull expressed belief today that the state department chief would be willing to accept the Democratic presidency nomination if President Roosevelt did not want it.

His statement was made after Hull had reiterated yesterday that he had no political ambitions and that he was not a candidate for anything.

The high official, who is also close to Roosevelt, declined to be quoted by name.

He predicted that Hull would be in a strong position at the Democratic convention if Roosevelt were not a candidate. At the outset, he said, the secretary would be sure of all of the Tennessee delegation, and with it, the Kentucky delegation.

He forecast also, that with the support of Governor Hoey of North Carolina, Hull would have all or most of that state.

To that he added Nebraska and probably Iowa and Maryland.

The official also said Hull would get Texas after the initial ballots had been cast for Vice President Garner.

He said the same would be true of Indiana after the first ballots had been cast for Paul McNutt.

He claimed half of the New York delegation for Hull.

But he expressed the opinion that, when the convention opened, the secretary would not have given any indication that he was a candidate.

Band Does Well

The Forreston school band and their director, Miss Beth Hower, came home from the state band contest at DeKalb yesterday with flying colors. They received first division rating and were recommended for the national contest. The Tiskilwa band also received the same rating. The Lanark band was assigned alternate, if either of the above bands cannot go to the national contest which is to be held in Battle Creek, Mich., sometime in May. This is the first time a Forreston band has won such honors and they are to be congratulated.

KNAUER SAYS "NO"

The hot stove leaguers were out in force at the meeting of the Illinois State Baseball League last night at West Brooklyn. Kay Knauer, veteran first sacker and hurler for the West Brooklyn club, predicted that it is 10 to 1 that Dixon will not retain the championship this season. The Rev. E. U. Halmaier, Maytown manager, wasn't so sure that Knauer was right and he considers the Dixon Knacks as a powerful threat.

SOFTBALL GAME TOMORROW

Jay's High Life softball club will meet the Sinclair Oilers in a practice game at the Airport ballyard tomorrow afternoon.

GOOD-NATURED RIBBING

The pony express came in this morning with the report that Al Wolfe reported at the Dixon Recreation bowling alleys yesterday morning after several days absence. When asked where he had been, he reported that he had been laid up with a lame back since rolling in the doubles at Clinton last Sunday and added that he had carried a big load. Those quick on the trigger and ready to rib were reminded that Al bowled with Walt Klein. Klein is reported to be set to bowl in the doubles at Rochelle with Mrs. Klein as his partner.

CRIBBERS RALLY TO WIN

Captain Dave Kelly and his team mate, Joe Miller of the city hall cribbage team, staged a spurt last evening to win from Captain George Schultz's Franklin Grove peggers by a score of 17 to 15. Chief Sam Cramer and his partner, City Clerk Wayne Smith, held their opponents to a draw. The Grovers team presented Captain Schultz, John Vogt, Charles Kelley and "Dugan" Stultz.

FENKE AT BELOIT

Chuck Fenske, the nation's leading track star, will try for a new world's record in the three-quarter mile distance at the Beloit Relays May 3, at Beloit, Wis., it has been announced by Director Lou Means. This will be Fenske's second appearance at the Beloit Relays. Last year he came within a hair's breadth of setting a new 1,000-yard mark in a special race.

Once - Defeated Illinois Baseball Team Gets Another Shot at Iowa

Chicago, April 20—(AP)—Once defeated Illinois gets another shot at pace-setting Iowa today in the highlight game of a full schedule of Big Ten baseball tilts.

Harold Haub, Iowa's co-captain who hasn't lost a conference game since 1938, set the Illinois down with eight scattered hits yesterday for a 7 to 4 victory. The triumph left the Hawkeyes in first place with two wins in as many games and dropped Illinois to a third place tie with Wisconsin. Each has lost one of three contests.

Iowa and Illinois play again today at Iowa City while the Badgers play at Michigan and Chicago at Northwestern in single games. Purdue and Indiana, and Minnesota and Ohio State doubleheaders are on tap at Bloomington and Columbus, respectively.

Wisconsin, like Illinois, dropped its first conference engagement yesterday, bowing to Michigan, 5 to 2. The veteran Jack Barry gave up only four hits, the Wolves increasing this year from $50,000 to $75,000, there is a strong possibility the Derby's number of subscribers will increase rapidly during the next few years.

BRADLEY VICTORIES ARE 3-WAY RECORD

Louisville, Ky.—Col. E. R. Bradley's four Kentucky Derby victories, a record for the Churchill Downs classic, also carried the cologne's trainer, H. J. (Dick) Thompson, to a record.

Thompson was trainer of each of the four Bradley horses to take the coveted stake—Behave Yourself, Bubbling Over, Burgoon King and Broker's Tip.

By saddling last year's winner, Johnstown, "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons became runner-up among Derby trainers with three victories. He also trained Gallant Fox and Omaha which like Johnstown, were owned by William Woodward.

1940 DERRY HAS LARGE NOMINEE LIST
Louisville, Ky.—Nominations for this year's Kentucky Derby, totaling 137—were the largest since 130 horses were named for the 1931 running.

Nineteen Derbies have had larger subscriber lists than that of 1940, however. The record was the 196 nominated in 1928.

With added money for the Dererines deciding the issue with a four run rally in the sixth inning.

Wildcats Win

Northwestern spotted Chicago seven runs in their game on the Midway then took the decision, 12 to 9, in a contest filled with weird combinations of errors, hit batsmen, walks and wild pitches. Each team got eight hits.

Single games also were scheduled at Bloomington and Columbus yesterday but wet grounds resulted in scheduling twin bills for this afternoon. Ohio State, Indiana and Minnesota have yet to play a conference but while Purdue lost its only league test to Iowa.

Big Ten Standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Runs	Opp.
Iowa	2	0	1.000	9	4
Michigan	1	0	1.000	5	2
Illinois	2	1	.667	16	14
Wisconsin	2	1	.667	22	6
Northwestern	1	2	.333	19	21
Purdue	0	1	.000	0	2
Chicago	0	3	.000	10	33

by increased this year from $50,000 to $75,000, there is a strong possibility the Derby's number of subscribers will increase rapidly during the next few years.

DERBY NOT ALWAYS PRESENT DISTANCE

Louisville, Ky.—From the beginnings of the Kentucky Derby in 1875 through 1895, the Derby distance was one and a half miles. Then in 1896, the distance was reduced to one and a quarter miles and has remained so since that time.

When the Derby was run over the mile and a half route, Spokane set a record in 1889 by covering the distance in 2:34 1/2.

Twenty Grand, winner of the 1931 Derby in 2:01 4/5, holds the record for the present mile and a quarter grind.

CLEVELAND TRIBE AND THE DODGERS SET LOOPS AFIRE

Indians Shut Out Tigers While Brooklyn Drops Giants, 12 to 0

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of four alarm fires are raging in the major leagues today and nobody is going to have any peace of mind until they're out.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Cleveland Indians, who finished third in their respective leagues last season, have started the current campaign with two consecutive shutouts.

On the heels of Bobby Feller's epochal no-hitter in the Indians opener, Johnny Allen came along yesterday with a three-hit 4-0 triumph for the Detroit Tigers.

This exhibition warmed 26,529 Cleveland fans who braved 40-degree temperature to welcome the Tribe back to the tepee.

For five innings the affair was a scoreless sizzler between Jawin' Jawn and Henry Pippin. Then in the sixth Jeff Heath, who like Allen has been classed as one of Cleveland's problem children, belted a homer with two on and the ball game was over.

The Dodgers vented years of pent-up fury on the New York Giants yesterday with a 12-0 thrashing. Hugh Casey gave nine hits, but had the full cooperation of Brooklyn's great infield to keep any of them from meaning anything. On the other hand the Dodgers got 12 hits and made every hit a run—without a blow bigger than a double.

Lavagetto Two-Bagger

But once Cookie Lavagetto smacked a two-bagger with the bases loaded and another time the team batted around for six scores.

The only other team still undefeated in the majors is Cincinnati, which was one of half a dozen teams rained out yesterday.

The Boston Red Sox were cooled off by the Philadelphia Athletics in the afternoon, 3-1, after taking a morning contest 7-6 to run their string to three straight. The double decker program was part of Boston's patriot's day celebration and the two games drew a total attendance of 33,600.

The world champion Yankees got their home season safely underway with a 5-3 nod over the Washington Senators, scoring four runs in the first inning around a two-run homer by Joe Gordon.

The Chicago Cubs broke into the winner's circle with a 5-0 shutout of the St. Louis Cardinals by Lefty Larry French, who permitted only six safeties.

Sentiment Helps Increase Crowd at Kansas Relays

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Lawrence, Kas., April 20—(AP)—Sentiment as much as athletic curiosity brought the crowd to the eighteenth annual University of Kansas Relays today.

For almost a decade Glenn Cunningham, the dethroned king of the world's milers has been a featured performer. Today he makes his farewell appearance for those who saw him develop from a flame scarred high school athlete at Elkhardt, Kas., high school to an Olympic hero and the world's nearest approach to a perpetual motion running machine.

Cunningham has announced he will retire this summer and only a few dates are left on his program unless European troubles subside enough to permit the Olympics in Finland.

Blaine and Wayne Rideout, the twins from north Texas Teachers, and Archie San Romani from nearby Emporia, will furnish the opposition today.

The best athletes 48 of the nation's colleges and universities could produce will assault the record books in a program of eight special events and 14 relay races.

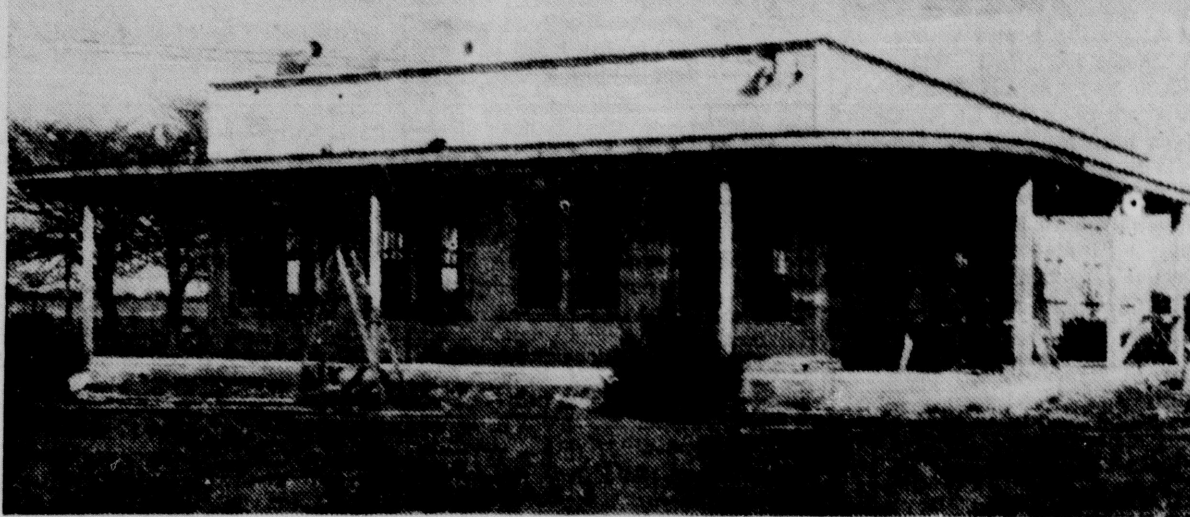

E. Lee Todd, winner of the 1939 decathlon, was leading at the halfway mark and is on odds on favorite to repeat. The Colorado university graduate student collected 3,754 points yesterday and was trailed closely by Walter Arrington of Michigan State with 3,725.

Finishing Touches Put on Plum Hollow Clubhouse

—Telegraph Photo

Painters began yesterday to put the finishing touches to the clubhouse at Plum Hollow country club in preparation for the grand opening on Sunday, April 28. Anticipating one of the liveliest seasons in the history of the public course, Owner Frank Randall said yesterday that inter-club matches are planned with Princeton, Sterling, Walnut and Baker Park of Kewanee.

Mr. Randall, who last fall assumed ownership of the course and began his rejuvenation and construction program, is planning several activities for the opening date, details of which will be announced later.

DIXONITES TO BOWL IN ROCK ISLAND EVENT

It will be a lonesome old town tomorrow as far as major bowling activities are concerned as 32 men and women beggers leave the home allies to try their luck afield.

Twenty-three men who roll in the Dixon leagues and nine women from the Ladies' League will bowl at Rock Island in the Argus (newspaper) Sweepstakes. The women will begin to bowl at 6 o'clock.

club and the men are scheduled to go on the allies at 7 o'clock.

The women, who will make the trip are: Pearl Detweiler, Alice Miller, Marie Dwyre, Evelyn Shawger, Amanda Smith, Anne Daschbach, Helen Klein, Lucille Poole and Hazel Huyett.

PREDICT PLATAK IS CINCH FOR HANDBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Detroit, April 20—(AP)—Railbirds at the National A. A. U. handball championships were giving Dead-Pan Joe Platak of Chicago his sixth straight title today before he even walked onto the court for his finals match.

So powerful has Platak appeared in preliminary play that he rated a huge favorite over Jack Clements of San Francisco, who advanced to the finals with the Chicagoan last night just as the dopesters predicted a week ago when the tournament opened.

Platak cut down hard-fighting little Angelo Trullio of New York, a star for years, 21-13, 21-11, while Clements fought to victory over Walter Plekan, Buffalo, N. Y., 21-10, 21-16, in semi-final matches.

In the finals today, Platak and Clements faced each other for the third straight year with the title at stake. Platak defeated the Californian decisively in the finals of the past two years.

AMBOY BASEBALL TEAM WILL JOIN NORTHERN LEAGUE

Mendota and Shabbona Also Expected As New Members

The Illinois State Baseball league, which last season was composed of only Lee county teams, will include two "outside" clubs this year according to plans made last night by the league managers at a meeting in the Town hall at West Brooklyn.

Eight teams will begin the local baseball wars on Sunday, May 12. Three new memberships to the league will supplant an equal number of clubs which have withdrawn, Amboy, long anxious to become a member of the league and fired with enthusiasm, will be the only new Lee county squad. Mendota will represent LaSalle county and Shabbona will come in from the DeKalb county area.

Paw Paw, Compton and Steward are the three clubs which have withdrawn.

Begin Third Year
The Dixon Knacks, now beginning their third year as members of the loop, are the defending champions and will be managed by Hi Emmert in the absence of the ailing Bert Cummings.

Mendota's membership is still tentative and should the LaSalle county team decide not to participate, the league will function with seven members leaving one open date for each team during the season to permit feature attractions.

Veteran members of the league will also include Maytown, Walton, Lee and West Brooklyn. The Rev. Fr. Urban Halmaier is expected to manage the Maytown crew again; J. H. Michel will pilot the West Brooklyn team; Walton will be bossed by Don Welty and Daniel Kennedy is expected to retain his post as manager of Lee.

Officers Re-elected
At last night's meeting William H. Leiser of Mendota was re-elected as president of the league and Oliver Gehant, Jr. of West Brooklyn was retained as secretary.

Rules and regulations of the league were voted to remain as of last season.

Although the complete schedules of the league are not fully made, it is definite that Dixon will open its defense of the title against the new Amboy members at Amboy on May 12. The battle ground will be south of the town, just across the railroad tracks. Amboy is reported to be all steamed up for the campaign and will trot out on the diamond in new uniforms.

Manager Hi Emmert and Shires Miller represented Dixon at last night's meeting.

MAROON GOLFERS HAVE A NEW HOME COURSE TODAY

Chicago, April 20—(AP)—The University of Chicago golf team now has a home course.

President Robert M. Hutchins announced today the college golfers would be permitted to use the Mill Road course for their matches this season.

The course is a part of the A. D. Lasker $3,500,000 farm estate presented to the school several months ago.

It was also disclosed that the estate will be open to college organizations for parties and outdoor excursions.

The golf course will not be open to regular students at Chicago, but members of the University Alumni association may use it on an annual fee basis.

SIGN WORKING AGREEMENT

Chicago, April 20—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox announced today the signing of a working agreement with the Wisconsin Rapids club of the Wisconsin State League, Class D league in its first year of operation. The White Sox now have working agreements with two minor league clubs and own three others.

GUERNSEY HAS CHANCE TO DEFEAT RIGGS IN TENNIS

Houston, Tex., April 20—(AP)—Frank Guernsey, who trimmed him once, had a chance today to bounce Bobby Riggs a second time.

They meet in a semi-final match of the River Oaks tennis tournament, and despite his prestige, Riggs was given only a slender edge over the Rice Institute youth.

Guernsey, who is defending title-holder and intercollegiate champion, defeated Riggs at Seabright last year.

The winner meets Betsy Grant, Atlanta, who defeated Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., yesterday.

In the women's division, Mary Hardwick of England, Wightman Cup player, meets Patricia Canning, nationally-ranked youngster from Alameda, Calif.

The winner plays Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabry, Boston, in the finals tomorrow.

Because of the blackout regulations now in effect in England, motorcycles with special tail lights are used to guide buses at night.

The choir of St. Patrick's Catholic church under the direction of Vincent Carney, will hold a sacred concert in memory of the former pastor, the Rev. Paul Bourke, at 4 o'clock Sunday, April 28, at the church. Father Bourke died in May, 1926.

Presbyterian Church

"Is the Bible a Record of Man's Search for God, or of God's Revelation to Man?"

Many people see no particular difference in these two points, but a closer study of the question will show a vast difference indeed. The pastor of the local Presbyterian church states that this is one of the great points of contention between the so-called "Modernists" and "Fundamentalists".

If you are interested in the answer to this and many other questions about the Bible, come to the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. The sermon theme is: "The Christian View of the Bible".

Around two hundred people gathered last Sunday morning to hear the discussion about "The God of Christianity".

You are invited to the Sunday school—a class for every age. Sunday school, 10:00 a. m. Morning worship, 11:00 a. m. Young people's meeting, 6:30 p. m.

Series of Robberies

There has been a series of burglaries on the C. M. & St. P. R. R. property in Mendota. On Wednesday evening about 7:30 o'clock while the agent, Mr. Wright, and his assistant Howard Sutton were at dinner Oscar Leiffheit who is employed as section laborer, saw someone smash the large east window in the depot. As Wednesday was payday on the C. M. & St. P. the would-be intruders possibly thought the checks were in the depot.

As Leiffheit went toward the intruder he protected himself with a piece of glass and ran toward the water tank two blocks south. The police were called but by the time they arrived the burglar was nowhere in sight.

It was discovered the lock on the tool house used by Car Inspector R. Gimbel had been tampered with. Several weeks ago a number of brasses were stolen from the tool house.

Early Thursday morning the section foreman Arthur Reppin was called to Fitchmore where several carloads of creosote treated ties had been unloaded for spring track repair. These were found to be on fire. Last Sunday night someone stole two rolls of snow fence north of Mendota from the right of way near the Henry Fels farm.

Walton News

By ANNA J. MCCOY

The masses on Sunday, April 28 in St. Mary's church, Walton, will be at 7 and 9 o'clock. There will be a dance in St. Mary's hall, Walton, Thursday night, April 25 under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Sodality.

CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING

St. Mary's hall, Walton, was the scene of a very happy affair last Sunday night when Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCoy celebrated their silver wedding anniversary. On April 14, 1915, Miss Nellie Morrissey became the bride of Peter McCoy. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Monsignor C. F. Conley who was pastor of St. Mary's church at Walton at the time and who is now pastor of St. Mary's church of Freeport. The couple were attended by Miss Elizabeth Morrissey, who is now Mrs. J. P. O'Rourke of Amboy, sister of the bride and Dennis McCoy of Aurora, brother of the groom. Both attendants were present at the celebration on last Sunday night. Mr. McCoy's nine brothers and three sisters and Mrs. McCoy's five sisters and two brothers were present, also P. H. Morrissey of Amboy, Mrs. McCoy's father.

There were about three hundred present to help the happy couple celebrate. They were presented with a purse of silver from the brothers and sisters of the couple and many other gifts were given by their friends. Relatives and friends were assembled from Aurora, Dixon, Ohio, Harmon, Beardstown and Amboy. The hall was filled to capacity. Dancing took place during the evening. A delicious lunch was served to the assembled guests in the church hall. The tables were prettily decorated and the table of the bride and groom of 25 years ago was decorated by two large bouquets of snapdragons and ferns. The guests departed for their homes after a very pleasant evening and hoping that the couple will have many more happy anniversaries.

Mrs. Margaret McFadden of Storm Lake was a visitor at the J. L. Carrington home recently.

Mrs. Margaret Byrnes and LeRoy Morrissey were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hecker Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brogan and family of Chicago were Sunday visitors with relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Montavon and daughter of West Brooklyn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunphy and family were visitors at the Lawrence Morrissey home Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carrington celebrated their silver wedding anniversary. Open house was held at their home from 2 to 5 o'clock and many friends and relatives called to congratulate the couple. Mrs. Carrington was the former Miss Gertrude McFadden and her marriage to J. L. Carrington took place in St. Mary's church, Storm Lake, Iowa, twenty-five years ago. All wish Mr. and Mrs. Carrington many more happy anniversaries.

Kidnaping Charge Against Bradshaw Rejected by Jury

Chicago, April 20—(AP)—Walter Bradshaw, 45, a butcher, today was free of a charge of violating the state kidnaping law by hiding the body of Beverly Joan Frank in his garage after his automobile had struck the five-year-old child.

After deliberating a little more than one hour, a Criminal court jury of eight women and four men returned a verdict finding Bradshaw not guilty of the charge which carries a prison sentence up to life imprisonment.

Bradshaw still faces a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, and the maximum penalty possible in case of conviction is one year in jail and a fine of $1,000, or both. His trial was set for May 5.

Bradshaw testified he hid the child's body under a tarpaulin in his garage because he believed she was dead and he feared that if he took her to a hospital, he would be held by police. He said he intended to report to police after he had straightened out his affairs at his butcher shop.

The prosecution sought to show that the girl was living when Bradshaw hid her in his garage after the accident, which occurred in front of her home on February 29.

Third Venire Called in Effort to Secure Jury in Boys' Trial

Crawfordsville, Ind., April 20—(AP)—A third special venire of 50 prospective jurors has been called for Monday in an effort to obtain a jury for trial of Thomas Allen Boys, 28, charged with first degree murder in the sex slaying of pretty 11-year-old Elizabeth Debrucker.

Boys is accused of raping and strangling the Fountain county farm girl last July 21 beside an Attica golf course where he worked. He is married and the father of three sons.

He went on trial last Monday. A jury seated the first two days was dismissed because a member had naps.

By late yesterday, when Circuit Judge Edgar A. Rice adjourned court over the week-end, 61 of a second special venire of 75 had been examined and the jury was not complete. Judge Rice ordered the third panel drawn.

Most of the talesmen have been dismissed because of opposition to capital punishment. Lawyers indicated another day probably would be necessary to get a jury. Boys has pleaded insanity.

FRANKLIN GROVE

Miss Grace Pearl
CorrespondentIf you miss your paper call
Howard Karper

Mrs. Herman Hensen and son Ralph of Rochelle were here Monday visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Humphrey spent Sunday evening in Ashton in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arland Butler and son Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. August Reinhart, Oscar Nass and daughter Miss Ethel were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gonnerman at Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker have moved from the Joe Ling residence to the Mrs. Rebecca Holley residence north of the Brethren church.

Mrs. Earl Orner of Wilmette was a Friday and Saturday visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. William Seitz and family were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wiener in Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dreger of Oak Park visited over the weekend with their son and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Dreger at the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Charles Wagner spent the first of the week in Ashton in the home of her niece, Miss Ella Vaupel.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bettendorf spent Wednesday afternoon in Dixon in the home of her mother, Mrs. Eliza Dysart.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Altenburg and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Hardesty of Washington Grove, were Sunday visitors in the Mrs. Pauline Altenburg home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and family have moved to the Mrs. Delia Thayer residence.

Junior Play a Success

"Mamma's Little Baby Boy," the side-splitting farce presented by the Junior class last Friday night met with a hearty response on the part of the audience. The Junior class can take pride in the manner in which all cooperated to present such a delightful play.

The audience also enjoyed the music of the high school alumni orchestra before the play. Miss Leona Ort of Dixon delightfully sang two numbers, and Dickie Dressing also of Dixon and Carolyn Herbst entertained with several dance arrangements. The applause for these numbers attested to the fact that they were greatly enjoyed.

New State Law

According to a new state law all over eighteen years of age must possess a fishing license if they wish to enjoy the sport of fishing. Ever since the law was passed young folk under 21 have been exempt from having licenses. The age limit being reduced to 18 will prove much additional revenue for the state. The village clerk wishes to caution young folks regarding the change so that they will not have any unpleasant experience with the game and fish warden.

Arm Broken

Arthur Brucker was very unfortunate Thursday morning. While working in the roof of a shed he fell breaking two bones in his right arm and dislocating two fingers. He was very fortunate not to have had a more serious accident as he came down hard on the cement floor.

Completely Surprised

The Truth Seekers class of the Church of the Brethren Sunday school to the number of thirty-five or more gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reynolds Monday evening and completely surprised Mrs. Reynolds who was celebrating her birthday anniversary. The class which is made up of young married people were to have had their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Reynolds home but hearing of the birthday decided to spring a surprise. During the evening games were played and a general good time was had by all. Lovely refreshments were served which included a beautiful birthday cake baked by Ernest Wagner. Mrs. Reynolds was given a handkerchief shower.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Random Shots

Two seniors of the class of 1940 have been named in the Illinois "Who's Who" of high schools. This honor is awarded to students ranking in the upper 2% of the school's enrollment, based on both scholarship and activity participation. Julia Moulton and Robert Fish were named this year.

The Route 72 conference had a business session after their banquet and voted that next year's basketball schedules must include home and home games with all schools. This will give Franklin

Two Popular Ashton High School Organizations

Ashton high school orchestra and drum and bugle corps, which in addition to the Pep band, has been developed in the high school during the winter months by Prof. C. H. O'May, instructor in music and member of the faculty. The three organizations are the foremost musical group of any high school in Lee county and in this section of the state. Professor O'May has been successful in developing excellent musical talent among the students who have won outstanding recognition in contests, both district and state. Early in the winter, a citizen of Ashton whose identity has not been divulged, presented the music department of the high school with a purse of $300 with which to purchase the attractive green and gold uniforms with which each of the units has been outfitted.

6 home games in the Route 72. Kirkland has dropped out of the conference. Other games on the "Wildcats" 1940-41 schedule will include Lee Center, Rollo and Kirkland.

Franklin tracksters will really get high-powered competition this year in meeting Polo, Amboy and Dixon this spring.

Saturday's school elections brought out an excellent vote. In District No. 58 George L. Spangler was nominated for his third term and elected by a substantial majority of 89 to 16.

In the Community high school election the largest complimentary vote in six years was shown at the polls. Fred Gross, president of the board and active since the organization of the district was elected by a 99 to 1 vote.

Wilbur Emmert who has served since 1936 was re-elected by a fine vote, the tally being 97 to 1. This year's vote does indicate that the public in general approves of a good school and appreciates the time and effort the board members donate in meeting a community responsibility.

Here From Minnesota

Attorney and Mrs. Manly Thornton of Worthington, Minn., accompanied by their daughter Miss Alice, who is a registered nurse visited with his sister Miss Alice Thornton at this place and relatives in Lee Center the latter part of this week. They left Saturday for Lafayette, Ind., where their son Dr. George Thornton, is professor of psychology at Purdue university. From Indiana they will go to St. Louis, Mo., where their son Allan is a market analyst under F. H. A. and supervisor of the district which includes Louisiana, Texas, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, with headquarters in St. Louis. They will return to Iowa where they will visit their daughter Mrs. L. L. Fry at Carydon. Atty. Thornton served two terms as probate judge in Worthington, county seat of Jackson county and is now actively engaged in the practice of law. He is well known in this community and his family will read about him and his family with much interest.

Birthdays Honored

Mr. and Mrs. John Morris entertained for supper Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hepfer and son Homer of the Kingdom. The supper honored the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Gates, Mr. Hepfer and Mrs. Morris.

Perfect Attendance

Mrs. Anna Buck entertained the members of the Kilo club Tuesday afternoon. The roll call which was responded to with "Garden Hints" revealed a perfect attendance the first time in several months. The second part of the book "Grandma Called It Carnal" was given by Mrs. Mae Gross. After the reading a social hour was enjoyed during which lovely refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held April 30th, Mrs. Kathryn Cover hostess. Election of officers will take place.

Tickets at the Gym

In making plans for the Mother and Daughter banquet it was decided to sell the tickets at the gym and not the school house. This will meet the approval of all. All the committees are working hard. The general committee report the menu as follows: Ham loaf, mashed potatoes, Harvared beets, molded salad, buns, coffee, jelly, pickles, ice cream and cake. This is not a money making affair. The money is used for the supper only. The full program will be published Wednesday evening.

Junior Prom Friday Evening

The Junior class of the high school is sponsoring the first public prom on Friday night at the Kersten gymnasium.

The public is invited to attend the dance and enjoy the music of Mel Elliott and his orchestra of DeKalb. The orchestra has been playing for various dances of the college at DeKalb.

Guests will be transferred to the atmosphere of the island of Hawaii. Palm trees will be in evidence among the decorations and leis will be given to the guests as favors.

Dancing begins at 8:30 p. m. and the juniors will be glad to welcome all those of the community who would enjoy dancing. There will also be some tables for those who desire to play cards.

This will be a good opportunity for those who like to dance to hear good music and a very nice social affair in our own community.

Methodist Church

In the Unified Service Sunday, April 21st, Rita Watson will offer a recitation concerning the use of four possessions. The sermon topic is "The Stewardship of Possessions." For the lesson study "Micah's Vision of Peace" is the topic. Unified service 9:45-11:15 a. m.

Doris Howard will lead the discussion of the Epworth League which meets regularly from 7:15 to 8:15 each Sunday evening. The constitution for the local chapter of the League will be read for discussion, amendment and ratification if satisfactory.

Circles of the Ladies Aid are to hold their monthly meetings on Thursday, April 25.

Census Taken

Mrs. Ada Peterman who has been appointed census taker for China township has completed the village of Franklin Grove and has begun on the farms. It will not only be a help to her but to the farmers as well if it were possible for them to have schedules filled out. If the farmer is in the field it will keep him from his tractor and work to be interviewed. This is only a suggestion, however.

Brethren Church

Sunday morning Sunday school at 9:30 with the study of Micah's Vision to Peace. We will try to find a way to make this a road to real peace. The worship service will begin at 10:30. This service is for you. Come and find help for Christian service.

The subject for the sermon is "The Ever Challenging Gospel." An anthem will be rendered by the choir.

The evening service will include bible study and sermon. Bible study by the different groups will begin at 7:30. Intermediate League, Junior church, Young People's Endeavor and Adult Christian Workers. Sermon and special music at 8:15. Choir practice Wednesday evening; the intermediates meet at 7 and the adult choir at 7:45. Ladies' Aid will meet on Wednesday.

Past Masters of Friendship Lodge Are Honor Guests

The Masons of Dixon and neighboring lodges joined in honoring the Past Masters of Friendship lodge No. 7 Thursday evening. A sumptuous banquet was served by the members of Corinthian Chapter, White Shrine of Jerusalem. A number of the boys of the DeMolay Chapter of Dixon assisted by pouring coffee.

Forty Past Masters, officers of Friendship lodge and guests were seated at the head table, the Past Masters being on the right of the present Master of Friendship lodge, A. H. Ferger the lodge officers and other guests being on the left. After the banquet, which was attended by 145 Masons, the assemblage moved to the lodge room, where twenty of the twenty-five living Past Masters of Friendship lodge were received and given places of honor.

Memento Accepted

As a part of the celebration, the Master of the lodge accepted the gift of a copy of "The Masonic Trowel" dated June 15, 1862, and which was described in the Telegraph Wednesday. This was a gift of Monitor Lodge No. 522 of Elgin, and has been placed between two sheets of glass and hung in the lodge room. This paper, which is nearly 78 years old, contains much of the early history of Friendship lodge, beginning with the year 1837.

During the evening, John T. (Jack) Tyrrell, was presented with a token of appreciation by the officers of Friendship lodge. This token was in the form of a sterling silver watch chain, being a very small book, engraved with the names of the officers and their sentiments toward "Jack", who has always been ready and willing to assist in any and all capacities whenever the need arose, and always without any thought of recompense. The presentation came as a surprise to "Jack" and his many friends and was made by the Senior Warden, Lucius H. Thomson.

E. W. Smith Sends Best Wishes

The oldest living Past Master of Friendship lodge, E. W. Smith, was unable to attend the meeting. Mr. Smith is now in his 94th year and is confined to his home, but is still much interested in the welfare of his lodge. He was visited by the Master of the lodge just prior to the meeting, and sent his best wishes to those attending. Mr. Smith is also the oldest living Mason in Illinois, having been a Mason for 73 years. He was Master of Friendship lodge in 1884 and his recollection of certain incidents of those early years is interesting in the extreme.

The third degree was conferred by the Past Masters of the lodge and was inspiring to the younger members and especially to the officers, who some day will join these men as Past Masters. There were present, among others, 17 Past Masters of neighboring lodges, and representatives of 33 visiting lodges, among them being visitors from lodges in Indiana, Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, Michigan, Iowa, Pennsylvania, and Nebraska.

CHAPEL HILL

Offers REAL PERPETUAL CARE

Did you ever compare the cost of maintaining gravel roads with that of concrete highways. There is quite a difference. The same comparison applies to the old style and park plan cemeteries.

Every precaution is taken to reduce the cost of care for future generations and at the same time set aside an excellent fund, the income from which will be more than sufficient to insure its proper care. We invite your careful consideration before need when you can discuss the pros and cons of
